Eighteen flat holes, all different, set in the verdant Lombardy countryside, bordered by the Addetta river and framed by ancient trees. The course is pleasant, yet demanding due to the water features created by streams. It is ideal for both novices and more experienced players. The long game also requires remarkable precision due to the rows of plants typical of the Po valley that mark out the eighteen holes.

Face-to-face with a champion

— Interview with Matteo Manassero

Born in 1993, Matteo Manassero began playing golf aged only 3 and a half. From that point on, he achieved increasing success, with the New York Times naming him “the boy destined to change the history of golf”. He is the youngest golfer to win a European Tour event and in 2013 he became the youngest winner of a BMW PGA Championship. In these pages, he explains why he feels at home in Lombardy.

The Lombardy Region boasts scenic, picturesque golf courses that are among the most beautiful in Italy and are technically outstanding. What makes them so special?

I think that the beauty of the courses in Lombardy is above all due to the high-profile designers who created them. Golf in Lombardy has always placed great emphasis on this aspect: there is a real culture of quality and aesthetics, which are greatly appreciated here. Over the years, the combination of these elements has resulted in exceptional courses.

In recent years, you have participated in two editions of the Italian Open at Milano Golf Club. Was it an exciting experience?

Very exciting. The Italian Open at the Milano Golf Club brought a great many people to the courses and the golf club's scenery made everything even more special. We felt very close to the public – it doesn't often happen and I think that everyone appreciated it.

Do you have a special memory of the courses in Lombardy?

Definitely Gardagolf, where I grew up and still often train. In my opinion, it is the most beautiful course in Lombardy and one of the best in Italy. I have many fond memories of Gardagolf.

Lombardy is a destination waiting to be discovered, boasting exceptional flavours, unique landscapes and an invaluable artistic heritage. Aside from the greens, where do you enjoy spending time?

I always grew up in the city, but I really appreciate peaceful environments, so I often spend time at Lake Garda, Lake Maggiore, the Franciacorta areas and obviously Milan. It is a city that offers a great deal, in many different ways.

Besides the golf courses, what do you consider to be an unmissable experience for people who come to play golf in Lombardy?

I would recommend that everyone visits Milan and spends a weekend at the lakes. You will not be disappointed.

An Instagram-worthy view in Lombardy?

The Vittoriale in Gardone Riviera, in the province of Brescia.

What would be the soundtrack to your days in Lombardy?

Some rather relaxing music.

In what sense do you feel 100% Italian?

In my lifestyle. When I travel and train for work, in Italy or abroad, I have to keep to certain schedules and habits, but as soon as I can, the most important things for me are relaxing, good food and a calm life. They make me feel good.

Are people born champions? In the course of your sporting career, how important has it been to be motivated, tenacious and hard-working?

Motivation and the desire to achieve are often crucial, especially when it comes to training. You have to push those moments when you'd rather be somewhere else aside and give it 100% to reach your goals and feel satisfied. Clearly, it is equally important when, in the key moment, you want something more than your opponent. In this case, you usually end up winning.

What advice would you give to a young golf beginner?

Young people starting out at golf can discover all its beauty for themselves, but they need to have a lot of patience to embark on a career, great determination and people close to them who can honestly advise them. Golfers have a fantastic life – seen from outside, it might seem very easy, but in fact you need to sacrifice a lot. However, when things go well, it is also highly rewarding.

One last question, Matteo: at 24 years old, is golf still the most important thing in your life?

There are a few truly important things in my life and one of these is certainly golf. The others are part of my private life, but golf is my passion and work. Without golf, I would struggle to enjoy the rest of life in the way that I do.

UNESCO Wonders

— 10 treasures plus 1

From Sabbioneta to the Workers' Village of Crespi d'Adda. Ten of Lombardy's treasures are protected by UNESCO. Ten World Heritage Sites and one Intangible Heritage, Cremona's "Violin-making Tradition". Experiencing them first hand is something not to be missed

"Longobards in Italy, Places of Power", with the monastery of San Salvatore and Santa Giulia and the archaeological area of the Capitolium in Brescia. "Pile dwellings in the Alps", of which the oldest is on Isolino Virginia. The views on infinity of the "Sacred Mountains of Piedmont and Lombardy", i.e. Ossuccio and Varese. "Traditional violin craftsmanship" in Cremona. "Mantua and Sabbioneta," ideal Renaissance cities. "Milan's Santa Maria delle Grazie and Da Vinci's Last Supper" are joined by the Venetian Walls of Bergamo, recognized in 2017 as part of the UNESCO World Heritage Site: "Venetian Works of Defence between 15th and 17th centuries: Stato da Terra - western Stato da Mar". Places of the soul, where the experience of beauty faces history. What joins them, like a thin thread, is being in the list of UNESCO World Heritage sites.

Unique testimonies like the "Rupestrian art of Valcamonica", going back over 12,000 years: engravings of hunters, warriors, peasants, carts and ploughs, water birds and dogs, huts and medieval towers. Or the "Monte San Giorgio", between the province of Varese and the Swiss Canton Ticino, keeper of an extraordinary deposit of 20,000 fossils: 50 species of fish and 25 of reptiles (the most spectacular), and over 100 species of invertebrates and plants. They date from the Middle Triassic, a period between 237 and 247 million years ago when they were covered by the sea. In addition to the outdoor path, the Fossil Museums in Besano (Varese) and, on the Swiss side, in Meride, renovated and expanded by the Swiss architect Mario Botta, are also worth visiting.

A UNESCO World Heritage site shared with Switzerland is also the "Rhaetian Railway in the Albula and Bernina landscapes", which connects Tirano (Sondrio) to Saint Moritz in the Engadine. The red Bernina Express train, with slopes of up to 70 per thousand, reaches an altitude of 2,253 m through spiral tunnels and viaducts, ancient glaciers and breathtaking views.

The 19th century utopia of the perfect factory is found in the province of Bergamo. The "Workers' village of Crespi d'Adda", a lucky mix of paternalism and social demands, is one of the most important and best preserved industrial archeologist sites in Europe. From the factory buildings with red brick decorations to the children's school, from the communal wash house to the very dignified and still inhabited workers' houses. All of them are worth a visit. For unique, unrepeatable experiences.

Food & Wine in Lombardia

— A region with flavour

Exploring a territory through its flavours is the most intense way to get to know it and enjoy it from close up. Hundreds of experiences and events to enjoy welcome you. Discover Lombardy through its most unforgettable flavours.

This destination includes many territories and fascinating experiences, ensuring something pleasing for everyone: visitors who love art, sports and culture along with people who just want to relax in a quiet place and enjoy great food. The lively cities, slower lifestyles of plains areas and everyday activities in the mountains: Lombardy is a mosaic of flavours, ways of life, cultures and relationships with the land that translated into incredible variety on our tables. The exploration of culture and nature cannot be separated from local food and wine traditions. Travel becomes more pleasant and fun when accompanied with exquisite tastings and traditional recipes.

A fragrant goblet

Red, white or rosé - sparkling or still: it is merely a question of preference because each glass is a source of great satisfaction. In the Oltrepò Pavese region, Lombardy welcomes us with a toast. With over 40 types of DOC wines, the Oltrepò area cannot fail to please: the Pinot Nero and Moscato are essential for enjoying the goose salami from Mortara and the Salame di Varzi, a splendid town with a medieval castle that once belonged to the Malaspina family. A completely different story is told with a glass of Franciacorta: here, bubbles accompany delicate flavours of pike and fine dried sardines from Lake Iseo. The heart of the Franciacorta region is dominated by the castles of Passirano and Bornato.

Green meadows and mountain flavours

The hills soon become high ground. Among the “crotti” in Valtellina (particular land formations) and the terraces along the hillsides, visitors can enjoy pizzoccheri made with buckwheat flour and local cheeses like Bitto, Valtellina Casera and goat cheese accompanied with a few slices of bresaola and a glass of Sforzato. The Bergamasque Alps tell their story with goblets of Valcalepio and Moscato di Scanzo, a plate of casoncelli from Bergamo and a hint of Strachitunt.

Plains with two rhythms

In the heart of the Po Valley, Milan is the symbol of fashion, luxury and design, but it has preserved its ancient heart: we find it in Milanese saffron risotto, casseoula and the Milanese cutlet. Far from the city limits, the open countryside marches to the beat of a slower drum. Between Cremona and Mantua, splendid cities with medieval roots, tables are filled with the fragrance of mostarda preserves, salami, marubini (filled pasta) in broth, pumpkin tortelli (another type of filled pasta) and torrone.

Between earth and water

Along the lake shores, traditions of the mountain areas blend with those of the plains areas to create a new story that joins the land and the water. On the lakes of Varese and Como, the offering is rich: we have tasty urgiada, the traditional barley soup, and dishes made with lake fish such as missultin or agone and alborella “in carpione”. The preparation of fish is an art also on the shores of Lake Garda: favourites there are eel and smoked trout. Our journey continues here through the ancient lemon groves and along the olive oil trails.

Shopping, Fashion & Design

— Cool mini previews...

*International affairs from fashion to design.
A guide to the trendiest events not to be missed.*

The homeland of shopping and stage of the biggest international fashion events, Milan welcomes any style, colour and trend and views clothing as an art, dedicating every corner of the city to it, where you can see glittering shop windows and shops that often contain period furniture, filling the streets with charm and tradition. For fashion enthusiasts, a walk through the streets of the Quadrilatero, from Via Manzoni to Via Montenapoleone, is an absolute must. People who want to refresh their wardrobe can find their ideal destination in Corso Buenos Aires, with its 350 shops, as well as Via Torino and the Duomo area.

Affordable fashion. Franciacorta Outlet Village is a shopping centre located in Rodengo Saiano, in the province of Brescia, and nestled in Franciacorta, a wine-growing region that has gained worldwide renown thanks to Franciacorta DOCG. The Outlet is a true shopping village, where streets and squares scattered with shops offer the best fashion products, furniture, cosmetics, perfume and much more. There is an emphasis on affordability: all year round, there are discounts of up to 70% compared to traditional shops.

Fashion Week in Milan. Twice a year (January/February and June/September) Milan transforms into the largest stage for international fashion. Fashion Week is an opportunity to attend fashion shows and to witness a preview of the new spring/summer and autumn/winter collections. The whole city is abuzz: Milan's streets are invaded by designers, models, bloggers and fashion influencers that stand out among the crowd and show off looks that are especially designed for the occasion. Vogue Fashion Night Out takes place in September, coinciding with the autumn edition of the Fashion Week: hundreds of shops in the centre of Milan extend their opening hours until late and host parties, DJ sets and special events.

The greatest celebration of design that is accessible to everyone through exhibitions, meetings, conferences, spontaneous events, public showrooms, installations and performances.
